Cienega Ranch, Arizona District, Northern Sonora, Feb. 24.—To get here you come out of Mexico at Nogales, and drive 150 miles, going back into Mexico from southern Arizona through the border town of Naco, whence this is wired.

Before you reach Tombstone, Ariz., pronounced by the Mexicans "Tommy Stony," you see on the left a new pile of stones. Under the stones lies what is left of Ed Scheffelin, Tombstone's father.

Scheffelin came to this country, then ruled by bloodthirsty Apaches, in 1877, following detachments of U. S. soldiers, prospecting as he came. Soon he left the soldiers, who told him "you'll find no gold, but you'll find your Tombstone." He did find gold, and silver and copper, and when the gold rush started a town near his first location, he called it Tombstone.

He liked to wander and prospect, and tried to sell his strike for $10,000. No one would buy. He worked it himself and then refused $150,000 for it. He worked a while longer, and sold out for $600,000, and he went, not to New York or Paris, but off again prospecting. That was his nature.

Nineteen years later, in 1896, while prospecting far off, east of Canyonville in Oregon, he died, alone in the doorway of his little cabin.

His will read: "It is my wish if convenient, to be buried in the dress of a prospector, my old pick and canteen with me, on top of Granite hills, about three miles westerly from the city of Tombstone, Ariz., and that a monument such as prospectors build when locating a mining claim be built over my grave, and no other slab or monument be erected. Under no circumstances do I want to be buried in any graveyard or cemetery." He wanted freedom, dead or alive.

There he lies with automobiles rolling by, on the smooth highway that his feet never knew, past the formal graveyard, with its neat fence, on the other side of the highway, and on to a "City of Tombstone" that he would not recognize.

Tombstone is civilized and dying. No cowboys shoot, no miners sell their bags of dust on the bar, to treat all hands. The courthouse, built in 1882, is abandoned and dark. The Cochise county seat was moved to Bisbee, Ariz., last year, and Bisbee is building a new $300,000 courthouse.

You read in big letters, "Bird Cage Theatre" over a wooden shack near Tombstone's old court house. But the Bird Cage is closed forever. The birds that lived there once, poor birds in red dresses, their faces painted and eyes tired, have gone. The Hellorado, an old wooden saloon, is closed, no more shuffling of the faro deck in gambling houses by white faced dealers that get the gold dust and nuggets, as fast as miners collected them.

No "likker" to be got in Tombstone now. You may buy an ice cream soda, or a nut sundae. There is a good gasoline station. The Owl cafe provides excellent meals, and Lem Hilton, proprietor, if you please (Continued on Page 4)

2 COUNTY JOBS LISTED IN OHIO ROAD PROJECTS

Highway Improvements, Bridge Bids To Be Opened Today

Two Columbiana county road projects, involving construction costs estimated at $163,189.70, are included in a $2,699,563 improvement program announced today by the state highway department in Columbus.

Bids for roads and bridge improvements planned in 30 of the state's 88 counties will be opened this afternoon by State Highway Director O. W. Merrill. Opening of bids today marks the first road program launched by the new highway department head appointed by Governor George White.

Improvement of 3.886 miles of the Cleveland-East Liverpool road at an estimated cost of $160,297.19 is the outstanding project announced for Columbiana county. The road, now in poor condition, will be resurfaced in Madison township.

The second project outlined for this county is for the construction of a slab bridge on the Lisbon-East Palestine road in Elkrun township. Cost of the bridge is estimated by the state's engineers at $2,892.60.

Contracts will be awarded by the state department sometime within the next ten days, Merrill said today. Another letting, when bids for roads of almost the same value as that planned by the department at present, will be held late next month.

REV. WESTPHAL WILL LECTURE

Baptist Church Pastor To Speak In Chicago Theological Schools

Rev. A. C. Westphal, pastor of the Baptist church, will leave Wednesday for Chicago, where he will spend the remainder of the week lecturing before the student bodies of several theological schools on the subject, "Object Lessons As A Means of Reaching the Children."

Visual teaching is playing a prominent part in religious education and Rev. Westphal has specialized in this form of work for a number of years. As an outgrowth of this special study, he has devised a number of lessons, illustrated with object. These were widely used by vacation Bible schools last summer.

The many urgent requests for an extension of this work prompted him to devise a new series for this summer's schools. These are now ready and are being distributed by several publishing houses, including the Colportage Association of Chicago and the United Publishing company of Allentown, Pa.

"Kentucky Home" Song Town Thrilled By Murder Chase

Citizens Gripped With Excitement Following Slaying Of Former Western Reserve University Instructor By Hitch-Hikers

BARDSTOWN, KY., Feb. 24.—This usually quiet town, about which the song "My Old Kentucky Home" was written, was gripped by excitement today after a thrilling chase which ended in arrest of two young Chicagoans on charges of killing Carl B. James of Louisville.

James, who formerly was professor of biological sciences at Western Reserve university at Cleveland, was killed by two hitch-hikers to whom he gave a ride while he and Mrs. James were on a pleasure tour.

Officials here placed special guards around the jail after reports were received from Hodgenville, where the men were captured, that mob violence was threatened.

The men arrested said they were Tony Peterson, 25, and Frank Carsons, 28, both of Chicago. They refused to give any other information about themselves.

James was killed and his wife forced out of their car at Cox's Creek, 25 miles from Louisville. The slayers raced south and stopped at Balltown, six miles from here, where they robbed a filling station owner.

The chase began there and at Hodgenville, officials, notified by wire, were waiting to join in it. In attempting to escape, the bandits ran the James car into a corner of the courthouse, tearing away 60 bricks, and were captured. It was because of the damage to the courthouse, according to reports, that residents of Hodgenville were so aroused.

Wife Knew Revolver
Mrs. James, when officials found hysterical beside the body of her husband, told that her husband had given the two men a "lift" and that as they were riding she noticed one of them had a revolver pointed at James' neck.

When she pleaded with the bandit she was ordered to "shut up."

James, she said, attempted to signal a motorist when they met a few minutes later. The other motorist stopped. Ordering James to stop, one bandit then ordered the other motorist to continue. While he was returning to the James car, his companion shot James.

FUND SHORTAGE REPORTED NEAR $20,000 FIGURE

East Liverpool Officials Boost Estimates In Edwards Case

GRAND JURY WILL HEAR TESTIMONY

State Examiner Ralph Reigler At Special Session Today

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 24.—An alleged shortage of approximately $20,000 in the funds of the East Liverpool municipal court will be reported at a special session of the Columbiana county grand jury at Lisbon today, city officials said.

Reigler To Testify
State Examiner Ralph Reigler of Canton, who has completed an inspection of the court books for the period between Nov. 16, 1927 and Oct. 13, 1930 declined to discuss his findings before he entered the grand jury room to testify.

Reigler was among the witnesses called by Prosecuting Atty. John E. Baucknecht of East Palestine in the investigation of a charge of embezzlement of $13,000 in public funds which was filed against former Municipal Court Clerk A. Earl Edwards last December, almost two months after Edwards resigned. Edwards, who pleaded not guilty to the charge, is at liberty under $15,000 bond.

Officials Are Called
City Auditor W. M. McGraw, Chief of Police Hugh McDermott, and city hall janitor, H. P. Scott, in addition to Judge Harry Brokaw, former Judge J. C. Hanley and other present and past officials of the court, were also called to testify.

Prosecutor Baucknecht said it is improbable that the grand jury will make its report before Wednesday night or Thursday morning, as Wellsville and Salem cases, as well as the Edwards charge, will be investigated.

HIGH TRIBUNAL SAYS VOLSTEAD LAW HOLDS GOOD

Finding Made In Government's Appeal From New Jersey

Under the decision the government will continue its efforts to enforce the Volstead law.

The ruling was handed down in the government's appeal from the decision of Federal Judge William Clark of New Jersey, who held the amendment invalid because improperly ratified.

Judge Clark contended that to be valid the amendment should have been submitted to state conventions for ratification rather than to state legislatures. This view the court found untenable.

Decision Is Unanimous
The court's decision was unanimous.

When William H. Sprague and William J. Howe were brought to trial before Judge Clark on a charge of possessing and transporting 50 half-barrels of beer, he quashed the indictment, holding the prohibition amendment invalid.

In an exhaustive opinion he took the position that as the eighteenth amendment attempted to transfer to the federal government jurisdiction over rights reserved to the people it should have been submitted to them in state conventions for ratification.

He held that its ratification by state legislatures was insufficient to make it effective.

The government appealed at once. The supreme court expedited the proceedings, hearing oral arguments in about a month, although counsel for the defendants sought approximately three months more time.

Interpretation Questioned
The controversy turned on the interpretation to be placed by the courts on Article V of the constitution which provides that amendments shall be valid when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states or by conventions in three-fourths of the states, "as the one of the other mode of ratification may be proposed by congress."

Judge Clark held the language ("as the one of the other mode of ratification may be proposed by congress.")

THE POOR HEATHENS.

Child marriage is a practice that has afforded many a delicious horror for American uplift groups. As an earmark of the uncultured heathens abroad it has been a stirring plea for help, for succor from the great nation where marriage is allowed only after the parties have reached a state of advanced mental and physical development.

So, a few days ago Dame Rachel Crowley, British sociologist, probably supposed she had hit upon something good when she told an audience that seven states in this country permit girls to marry at the age of 12, in shocking contrast with India, Turkey and Japan, which demand a minimum age of 16. It was a body blow to America's often over-developed capacity for moral indignation against practices not common with its people.

But, it was from a group of Americans, the children's bureau in Washington, that Dame Crowley subsequently received the information that she was in error. Not seven states, but 11 states in the United States permit 12-year-old girls to marry, it seems. They are Louisiana and Virginia, where the age is fixed by statute; Florida, Maine, Rhode Island, Tennessee, where age is fixed by judicial decision under common law; and Colorado, Idaho, Maryland, Mississippi and New Jersey, where it is presumed the common law applies. Kentucky, Pennsylvania and New York left the choice classification of child-marriage states only a few years back.

If further evidence of the wisdom of keeping one's own backyard clean preparatory to crusading for a neighborhood cleanup be desirable, the Russell sage foundation's study of child marriage in 1925, which estimated 343,000 women and girls then living in the United States began their married life as child brides may be produced. The foundation's estimates usually are pretty accurate.

Poor, backward heathen!

ELECTION IN CHICAGO

Today is the day that Chicago Republicans elect the man who probably will be their next mayor. The choices are William Hale Thompson, the present incumbent, Judge John H. Lyle, and Alderman Arthur Albert. Predictions favor Mayor Thompson. Judge Lyle is conceded an outside chance; Alderman Albert will be a poor third, whichever way the vote goes.

One of the best of the many humorous stories concerning the election concerns a newspaper reporter who asked a convention of alienists for an opinion on the sanity of the candidates. The alienists were almost unanimous in their opinion that the inquiry ought to be directed to the sanity of the voters. That, it must be admitted, is America's idea of the election, though for the Chicagoan the elements of tragedy are too strong to permit such enjoyment. If he loves his city and takes an interest in its development the Chicagoan regrets the rowdy electioneering that has made elections in his city synonymous with lawlessness.

The day may go along peacefully, or it may easily result in an outburst of violence that will shake the city's foundations of government. If the lawless element has any intelligence at all, however, it will stay under cover. There is nothing to be gained in trying the patience of the lethargic citizenry past the breaking point.

Election day in Chicago. The day when America expects to see a good show, and rarely is disappointed.

Reading the Wickersham report, which is now issued in booklet form, one is led to remember the old expression, "nothing doing"—Florida Times-Union.

What Others Say

CAUSES OF POSTAL DEFICITS.
President Hoover has signed the bill whereby all employees of the postal service, not merely a fortunate minority, as in the past, obtain the forty-four-hour work week. At the same time he announced his intention of requesting congress to create a commission to devise ways and means of reducing the growing postal deficit.

Certainly when a governmental department which should be businesslike in its operations goes annually in the red to the tune of $100,000,000 something ought to be done about the matter.

It is significant that President Hoover is not ready to approve the unsound proposal of the postmaster general that the rates on letter postage be increased. Consequently he favors an investigation rather than application of a superficial so-called remedy which might aggravate the existing situation.

Congress should respond to the president's request by authorizing the suggested commission. The investigation, when made, should be comprehensive. It should consider the substantial cost of the franking privilege, the part played in the department by politics, the indirect subsidies established by the service, as well as the character of the department's methods of bookkeeping and accounting. The postoffice deficit is in part apparent, not real. If all the other departments of the government paid for the handling of their huge mail, as they would if the postoffice was operated by a private agency, the deficit would be much smaller than it is.

The postoffice department needs first of all application throughout its activities of genuine business methods.—Chicago News.

"Mental Workers" and Lunch

A few nights ago—had dinner with a prominent Judge. He says he is forty-nine, but looks ten years younger.

Whether I am in the mood or not, everybody talks to me about health. The Judge did and told me what he does to keep fit.

No matter how late he gets home he exercises for several minutes in front of an open window. Among other movements he always does many deep breaths and energetic stretches, particularly in the morning. Even if it is snowing or blowing he will not think of missing this health giving exercise, he said.

That would be dangerous for an older man and until it becomes a habit, would be pretty strenuous for a younger one. But since it is the custom of years I have no doubt it is good for my friend.

It would be a splendid thing for everybody to take deep-breathing exercises in front of an open window. Simpler setting-up exercises than these would be a health promoter for every man and woman who would use them.

The Judge says he eats but two meals a day in addition to a cup of coffee and a grapefruit for breakfast. That program would be improved upon, as I see it, if he took a good breakfast with the coffee and grapefruit at noon.

Most mental workers and office persons eat too much particularly in the middle of the day. They are dull and stupid for two or three hours in the afternoon. They feel more like sleeping than working. A light meal at noontime would overcome this common experience.

It is well to give thought to the manner of living. Too many of us drift along, indulging in harmful practices, perhaps entirely unconscious of the harm we are doing ourselves. If one can keep from becoming a "crank" or a "faddist" it is a good thing to work out a program of eating and exercise.

"White-collar workers" of every sort need to be careful. Without the strenuous work of manual laborers they are inclined to put increasing work on digestive organs which are growing weaker in nerve and muscle. There must be less demand upon digestion unless there is constant renewal of strength and vigor of the body.

The Judge asked no advice from me. He was filled with enthusiasm over his own program. Since he is thriving on it, I approve of it for him. Perhaps it would not be so good for you.

Answers to Health Queries

R. S. Q.—What do you advise for scars left by pimples?
A.—To make the scars less noticeable, apply hot and cold compresses alternately for ten minutes night morning. X-ray is also helpful.

M. C. Q.—What do you advise for falling hair?

A.—Brush the hair daily and use a good tonic. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

M. D. Q.—Is boracic acid a good eye wash?

A.—Which is best for reducing, dieting or exercise?
A.—Yes.
2.—Both are essential for proper results.

M. E. D. Q.—Are cigarettes harmful to a growing boy or girl? Will they cause one to remain thin? In what way are they especially harmful?

A.—Not necessarily although it would be better to cultivate the habit later on when the full growth has been attained. No excessive smoking affects the nervous system and this in turn affects the system in general.

B. H. Q.—What causes a coated tongue?
A.—This is usually due to constipation.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, Feb. 25

Although this day may be forecast as a very lively one, yet it may be a disagreeably exciting one, owing to the preponderance of the adverse lunar aspects. There are many dangers from impetuous and energetic stimuli, particularly in employment or with those in authority. This also applies to all manner of new undertakings or propositions, and may find an unhappy reaction in purely personal relations or interests unless a calm and deliberate course of action be adhered to and deception and treachery be forestalled.

Those whose birthday it is are likely to encounter a year of generally unsatisfactory conditions with delays, disappointments, and frustration, although things may be lively and the energies high pitched. Calm, wise and well managed conduct may bring adjustments but employment and new undertakings are under especial jeopardy. Personal affairs may likewise prove inharmonious unless tact be safely adhered to. A child born on this day should be quick, active and aggressive, perhaps encountering much opposition and subtle attack in its affairs.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24. — Wall street has been the target for many odious comparisons. A Britisher refers to it as a suction pump sucking the world dry of capital. Others flay it as an ant heap destroyed by mere rumor, as the moneyed depot of despair, the terminus of hope.

Yet in mere physical aspect it is a languid thoroughfare. Broad street, running off to the right and left is a more impressive financial center. The Stock Exchange is really there and also until recently curb brokers fidgeted about in this wide street.

Legend has it Wall Street as the pulse of the nation originated in a daily meeting of nine brokers under an old elm near the close of the 18th century. These nine gradually expanded to more than 1,100.

The wonder of the Stock Exchange which really typifies what is known in the vernacular as "Wall Street" is not in its whirligig haste and cyclonic gyrations but now, in all the confusion great deals are carried on with the accuracy and speed of a watch tick.

There are seldom exchanges of paper on the confusing floor of the Stock Exchange. Sometimes a deal that goes into the hundreds of thousands or even millions is consummated with the quick nod of the head. Fortunes are gained and lost by the lift of a hand.

Constantly there are shouting voices but these are announcements mostly. The Stock Exchange from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. is really a constant battle between those forces known as "bulls" and "bears". One side shoves prices up and the other pulls them down. And sideline suckers pay for the fun.

That vermiculating old Maiden Lane district downtown has lost much glamour. It once rivalled Alhambra as a diamond center, but merchants have scattered to diffusing points uptown. The market is no longer centralized.

Among names plucked from recent theatrical programs are: Elvye Adams, Angelyn Nouvaine.

Roland Rawshoo and—here is a one—Ah! Arende

For years he has been a purist who looked upon the swayed, of modernism as depraved. His home in the country is candle lit, his warmth comes from log fires and his water is drawn from a well. Today he looked about my recently furnished quarters with a sort of Tudor resentment. There was not one word of praise and he has me so flustered that as a compromise I'm in the market for a carpeted brick door stop or a hand painted skillet with a red ribbon bow.

My book shelves are of glass with chromium supports and with the right light on them at least have a sparkle. He kept pressing his fingers on the chromium and looking quickly to see if it left prints. The fact it does seemed to mean something terrible, for he shook his head. One thing is certain, if I ever become fed up on the modernistic and go Tudor I'll never snoot around pressing other folks' chromium.

If Gabrielle Chanel, the Paris dressmaker, comes to America to fashion styles for the movies, it will be another step in the most fascinating career of one of the most fascinating women of present day Paris. Her establishment, Chanel's in rue Camben, is one of the largest in Paris and she is reputed worth $3,000,000. She was a former mid-inette—a waif from Marseilles—and has been the favorite of two dukes, Duke Dimitri of Russia and England's Duke of Westminster. She was first to wear a cloche hat in public. Chanel is brunette, small, slender, piquant.

I waited in the perfume shop of Chanel's on the ground floor with Henry Sell for our wives who were watching a mannikin parade on the floor above. Chanel fluttered in and began chirping to Sell, then editor of Harper's Bazaar. She is the only woman I ever saw whose eyes seem to change color—glinting green, then blue and what seemed a tigerish yellow. Nowhere before or since have I ever seen a creature so magnetically animated. No wonder she had a couple of dukes running a temperature. I went to my hotel slightly feverish myself.

PAIN after eating

WHAT many call "indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been overstimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid; 25c and 50c a bottle; any drugstore. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle. The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the Phillips' name on bottle. Adv

Finding Made In Government's Appeal From Eastern Court

should be construed as modified by "principles of political science" and that such amendments could be constitutionally ratified only by conventions in the states.

The government contended the language of the article was clear and entirely free from ambiguity, and that there was no room for construction adopted by Judge Clark.

It insisted that no limitation had been placed on the discretion of congress in deciding which mode of ratification should be adopted.

The decision was delivered by Justice Roberts before a crowded court room.

Congress Has Jurisdiction

He stated that congress was granted complete jurisdiction to decide the mode of ratification and that it had the right to refer the amendment to legislatures for ratification.

Roberts said that the contention had been made by attorneys upholding the Clark decision that the 18th amendment took power from the people which no other amendment did. He said that in the opinion of the court there were a number of amendments similar in connection with which the same point could be raised. Among them he named the 13th, 14th and 19th amendments.

In conclusion he said that in the national prohibition cases in 1920 the court had proclaimed the validity of the amendment and that it now reiterated the position taken then.

There was a brief flurry at the conclusion of his decision as a few listeners hurried to the doors but this subsided quickly and Justice Roberts proceeded with the delivery of another opinion.

Where are the forlorn girls that used to bring business to the Bird Cage, and where is Ed Schiefel? Life in an eternity with streets of gold would bore him. He liked to prospect for his gold, while he looked out for Apaches, not daring to light a fire. Does kind providence provide him with rocks that he can tap, veins of promising ore, "good float" to make life interesting? Very likely, the "many mansions" may not all be equally dull.

Coming on to this ranch 5,000 feet up where the Elias family keep thousands of Hereford cattle on 30,000 acres of land, you pass the copper towns, thousands of workers earning good wages, and stockholders far away earning good dividends.

Calumet and Arizona, Phelps Dodge and Shattuck mines are here, with the great Cananea mines just across the Mexican border. Intelligent Mr. Ryan has got control of that last great property for the Anaconda company, with 100,000 acres of land, now feeding 50,000 head of stock for the Cananea Cattle Co.

How much wealth lies beneath the mountains on these 100,000 acres? Hundreds of millions of dollars have been taken from this land, opened by Schiefel in spite of the Apaches.

All these giant cattle pastures are well fenced. To reach this ranch upon which the sun is now rising, you leave the main road running from Naco to Cananea, and drive across the grass, 25 miles over many "cattle guards," rows of iron bars set a few inches apart. The cattle seek their feet would be caught between the bars, and will not cross, which makes gates unnecessary. They would have thought so 10,000 years ago, and will think so, 10,000 years hence. They could jump on step over them, but unlike men, they have relied on their horns, not on their brains and their mental evolution ceased, long ago.

WEST FRANKFORD, Ill.—A $20 gold piece will be sealed in a glass case and go to the "last man" of a World War Veterans "Last Man" club organized here.

MARCH 16 FINAL DAY FOR PAYING TAX ON INCOMES

Nationwide Scramble Will Be Concluded One Day Later This Year

The 1931 series of the American taxpayer's classic, the battle of income returns, is in full swing and will continue until St. Patrick's day.

The nationwide scramble to file returns on incomes received during 1930 will come to a close by governmental mandate at midnight, March 16. This is one day later than usual because March 15 is the customary deadline date, falls on Sunday.

Income taxes paid during 1930 amounted to $2,332,968,393, about $170,000,000 less than the total payments in 1929. Depressed business in 1930 is expected to result in considerably diminished returns this year, offset to some extent by the higher tax rates.

Tax Cut Temporary
The one per cent reduction in taxes on income of 1929 was a temporary measure only, the rates on 1930 incomes reverting to the level of those of 1928.

The reversion to the old rate, deemed necessary because of a treasury deficit, is the only change in income tax requirements. The normal tax rates on individual net income for 1930 are one and one-half per cent on the first $4,000 in excess of personal exemption and credits, three per cent on the next $4,000, and five per cent on the balance.

The rate of tax on the net income of a corporation is 12 per cent. The surtax rates on individual net income in excess of $10,000 remains unchanged.

Government Will Help
Returns must be filed by single persons who had a net income of $1,500 or more, or gross income of $5,000 or more, and by married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more, or gross income of $5,000 or more.

"If you need help in making out your income tax returns, don't hesitate to ask for it," says the bureau of internal revenue. "It will be furnished you willingly by the bureau."

Taxpayers are urged particularly to read carefully the instructions on the forms for filing the returns, to fill out themselves the blanks they understand, and to file their returns early.

Failure to receive a form does not relieve a person from his obligation to file a return and pay his first installment on or before March 16.

POLICE GUARD APARTMENT IN HUNT FOR MARY

Exclusive Suites In Pittsburgh Suspected In Search For Girl

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 24.—A fashionable apartment in the Squirrel Hill district of Pittsburgh was guarded by police today on information that one of its tenants was Mrs. Mary Woodfield, wanted for questioning concerning the slaying of former Councilman William E. Potter.

Could Help Clear Up Case
Mrs. Woodfield, known as "Akron Mary," was with "Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin for four days prior to his arrest on a charge of murdering Potter and police believe she could help clear up the case.

Cuyahoga county authorities went to Pittsburgh after receiving a letter from Marion, O., postmarked Sunday, in which they were directed to the hotel. A woman executive refused to allow them to search, saying she knew "Akron Mary" was not there. Rather than obtain search warrants for the more than 100 suites, it was decided to set a police guard to apprehend Mary if she appears.

While authorities were engaged in this search, Common Pleas Judge George B. Harris revealed that last January Potter remarked "If I have to go to the penitentiary on account of the land deal there are others who are going along with me."

Potter Twice Acquitted
The former Republican politician was referring to the St. Clair-Corliss road playground scandal, in which former Councilman Liston G. Schooley and his son were sent to the penitentiary and the city was defrauded of $30,000. Potter was twice acquitted of complicity in the deal, but was facing a perjury trial when slain.

Reliable information also was obtained that Potter had made veiled threats to "talk" when "higher-ups" refused him funds for his defense. It was said he made the request February 3 a few hours before he was shot to death in an east side apartment.

Trees Bear Poorly; Get Good Lashing

(By Associated Press)
TEXCOCO, MEXICO, Feb. 24.—Fruit trees of the nearby Huexotla region which bore a poor crop this year were subjected today to a severe lashing, with the admonishment that they do better next season.

Peasants of the region believe the trees require chastising when they do not bear well and they make the occasion motive for gay festivities.

After a series of native dances and other formalities, a score of the best physical specimens of the tribal balmhood administer 10 lashes each to upwards of 50 trees, using leather straps especially made for the ceremony.

Robber Is Undone By Girl's Memory

ALLIANCE, O., Feb. 24.—A girl's memory for faces landed an eighteen-year-old youth in jail here yesterday, three weeks after he had snatched a purse and fled.

Marjorie Ray of 709 S. Mechanic Avenue, was walking along the street when a man snatched her purse from her grasp and escaped. But she got a good look at him.

When she noticed him in a downtown store today, the girl followed him to the street and accused him of the theft.

He offered to go to the police station and prove she was wrong. Police Capt. Harry L. Groves later wrung a confession from him.

FARM NOTES

Items of Interest Taken from Ohio Rural Districts

Mahoning county poultrymen are anxious to get an early start in growing healthy pullets this year. The official registration for the project will not open for some time yet, but several poultrymen wanted to be sure that they will be in on this year's project, and visited the county extension office and have asked to be enrolled in the project.

One hundred and twenty-five poultrymen enrolled last year in the project and the interest that is being shown indicates that there will be a much larger enrollment this year.

The project is to raise a percentage of the chicks with the hatched, or purchased, in a healthier flock, and sends a chick to start raising valuable. The extension agent is enrolling in the project a chick rearer to those who have been held each year this meeting will be held in the hall at Salem, March 5 and 6. This school is being sponsored by extension agents of several counties of this section and the Farm and Dairy of Salem.

Those who enroll in the grow healthy pullet project are urged to follow the recommendations of the extension service and of the Ohio State university in raising their chicks. A survey at the close of the year shows that they raised 92.3 per cent of the chicks which they started with to 10 weeks of age. When this is compared with the low percentage that is ordinarily raised, it shows very favorable results for the grow healthy pullet project methods.

Poultrymen who are interested in co-operating in this project can secure enrollment cards by writing to the county extension agent, J. C. Hedge, Canfield, or they may be secured at the poultry school at Salem.

Toledán Is Held In New York Crash

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Accused of driving automobile which figured in a fatal automobile accident last night, Art Wright, 36, Toledo, lumber dealer, was arrested early today, on charge of homicide.

Miss Hett Hathaway, 24, was instantly killed when her car collided with others in the Bronx and overturned, pinning her beneath it. Her car, a 1928, was owned by her father, Henry H. Hathaway, 34, Toledo, a manufacturer, and Wright was caught under the car and saved minor injuries.

The Hett car struck one occupied by Max Just, president of the A-1 Building corporation, Mrs. Just and a driver. They escaped in jury. The cars were wrecked and one paid at the curb was damaged.

Hathaway gave her home address the Park Lane hotel, Toledo.

MARCO'S WIDOW READY TO TALK

Will Answer Questions Cleveland; Won't Go Back To New York

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 24.—The widow of Harry Marco, who was shot and killed here last week, is ready to talk about the case, but she will not return to New York.

Yvonne Richmond, Marco's widow, said she was ready to answer questions about the case, but she would not go back to New York.

"I don't know why they want me. I'll answer all their questions here, but I will not return to New York," she said after she was taken into custody at the home of J. M. Marco, her father-in-law, here. She had come here for the funeral of Frank, who police said had prospered as a New York and Chicago racketeer while his partner, thought he was a successful salesman.

New York police want to question her regarding her husband's associates in the belief they may learn why he was shot and stabbed and his body left lying on the waterfront.

Mrs. Marco, the former wife of Harry Richmond, stage and screen actor, declared she last saw Marco at midnight last Tuesday, when he went out to buy a newspaper. Later he telephoned he would be gone for a couple of hours. Then there was another telephone call from a man who said he was a policeman and asked if she could identify a slain man as her husband.

She hung up and fled to the home of a friend, she said and learned of the killing from the newspapers the next morning. The same day friends put her on a train for Cleveland. "That's all I know about it," she asserted.

PHONE REPORT

ISSUES Spent $25,036.219 Year, Report To Ohio Stockholders Reveals

The Ohio Bell Telephone company manifested its confidence in the future by expending $25,036,219 in 1930 on additions and betterments to its plant and equipment throughout the state, according to the annual report to the stockholders made by the company's directors at the annual meeting in Cleveland today.

"This amount was $3,099,258 less than was expended in 1929 when telephone growth was the largest in the company's history, but exceeded by $3,769,043 the average annual expenditure during the five-year period from 1925 to 1929," the report states.

"The large expenditures during the depression period fully express the confidence of the directors in the future of the communities which the company serves and indicates our co-operation in business stabilizing efforts. This construction program made possible the continued employment of many of our people and indirectly added to the employment of others."

The average annual expenditure for additions and betterments in the five-year period preceding 1930 was $1,267,176, according to the report.

The rapid growth of the company is indicated by its investment which has grown from $97,561,866 in 1922 to $173,447,185 in 1930, an increase of $85,885,319 or nearly double in the last eight years.

During the same period earnings have varied from a low of 3.9 per cent in 1923 to a high of 6.1 in 1928. Last year the earnings to investment were $8,446,288, or a percentage of 4.9.

Peru's President Tenders Olive Branch To Insurgents

(By Associated Press)
LIMA, PERU, Feb. 24.—Lieutenant Colonel Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, provisional president, today tendered an olive branch to the insurgents who have occupied Arequipa, second city of the republic.

In a manifesto to the army he renounced his candidacy for the constitutional presidency of the country and then issued a decree cancelling the scheduled general election and providing for election of members of a projected constituent assembly.

In the manifesto he asked the soldiers not to be deceived by "those who made commerce of politics." The duties of the assembly, which will meet May 2, will be to organize the executive power provisionally; to make a new constitution; to pass laws for general and municipal elections, and to set a date for presidential elections. When these tasks are concluded it will act as congress until the new constitution can be put in force.

Meanwhile the provisional government is continuing enlistment of reserves for service in restoring order in southern Peru. Strict censorship is in force.

Twins In Chicago Receive Names Of George And Martha

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—A boy was born to Mrs. Nicholas Bushman a few minutes before midnight Sunday. George Washington's birthday anniversary.

He was named George Washington Bushman. A few minutes after midnight the boy's twin sister was born.

She got the name of Martha Washington Bushman.

"That", said one of the nurses on duty today when the facts were learned, "was the only patriotic thing to do. The little girl couldn't help it because she was not born a few minutes earlier."

The twins' father who is out of work had a bit of an argument with their mother about the names but he finally convinced her George and Martha were O. K.

"That's because I love America," he said. "I love this country even when times are bad."

Metropolitan policyholders—including about one-fifth of the total populations of United States and Canada—have built up their reserves from millions into billions.

THE financial story below is a record of achievement by men and women who are planning to avert want or to build estates. You may admire their steadfastness of purpose last year under handicaps which tested courage.

These people—policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—are building for their future. They would like to know what the future holds in store for them and for the country as a whole.

Let them, and other citizens, examine any chart of our country's unparalleled prosperity over the past hundred years. It appears, not merely as a jagged line, but as a series of towering steps which rise steadily onward and upward.

It is heartening now to recall that, after each depression, our country has always gone forward to greater heights of prosperity and better, sounder standards of living. Today this country has more riches and better facilities than ever before with which to commence her next great period of development.

A review of the financial history of the United States since it was founded in 1783 should turn any pessimist into an optimist.

The Metropolitan will gladly mail, free, a booklet, "The Development of Prosperity in America", telling of past ups and downs—and ups again—and how soon the "ups" followed.

Lead Scorers

COPE

ALLIANCE, Feb. 23.—Robert

Cope, Mount Union's sophomore

find, is high score man on Coach

Bob Wright's Ohio conference leaders. Cope has scored 145 points this season. In the 12 conference games that his team has won Cope has a record of 116 points.

Cope comes from Salem where he starred in high school basketball.

He is a sophomore, 6 ft. 4 in. tall, and a good student.

Mount Union has four games yet to win to claim the Ohio conference championship, which will make its eighth since 1901. Basketball as a college game first started at Mount Union in 1892.

MOUNT TOSSERS TO MEET CASE

Alliance Collegians Seek

To Add Two Victories

This Week

ALLIANCE, Feb. 24.—Mount Union will seek to add two more victories to its 12 straight by entertaining

Case and Oberlin here this week.

Both promise to be interesting games and the large crowd that attended the Mount-Muskingum game

last week realize no basketball game is sewed up until the second half is well over.

The Mount boys are out for the eighth championship for their alma mater. Four teams have the chance of disappointing them for if any one of the four turns the tables

Mount Union steps down and Hel-deberg with six straight will step into first place.

With three days of rest since the

Muskingum game the Mount Union

basketball squad is in best condition for tonight and Oberlin Thursday night. Both games to be played at Alliance.

The siege of colds which slowed up the team for the Muskingum game have all disappeared and the squad is once more in tip-top condition.

Senators Release Pair

LEAGUE LEADERS OPPOSE FURNACE

McArtor Florists Expect Fourth Straight Victory Tonight

The McArtor Florists cage quintet is favored to annex its fourth straight victory in the Salem Class A league tonight, clashing with the Electric Furnace in the second game of a twinbill at the Memorial building gymnasium.

The Florists, victors in three previous engagements in the circuit, will practically clinch titular honors with a verdict over the furnace-makers, each of three other contestants in the league having lost two games.

The Golden Eagle will make a second attempt at a comeback by meeting the R. E. Grove Electric company team in the first game scheduled at 7:30. This contest is foreseen as the outstanding battle of the evening, the Grove team having decisively trounced the Class A champions in their first meeting this half.

The champs, however, are determined to continue as a contender for league laurels with a victory over the Electric. If the Florists trim the Furnace the best the winner of the Grove-Golden Eagle game can do is to tie the Posies for the title this half.

Tilden Wins Pro Match

The skill of William T. Tilden in wielding the racquet did not desert him when he left the "simon pure" ranks to join the "pros." He proved it by beating Europe's greatest professional, Karel Kozeluh, of Czechoslovakia at Youngstown last night. A large crowd of tennis fans including many Salem residents, attended the exhibition.

A large crowd of Salem tennis fans traveled to Youngstown Monday night to witness exhibition matches featuring William T. Tilden and his professional racquet savant at Rayen-Wood auditorium.

Tilden defeated Karel Kozeluh, holder of the world pro title, in the feature match while Frances Hunter noosed out Emmett Pare, national hard-court champion in a sensational match. Tilden and Kozeluh were paired off against Hunter and Pare in a doubles match won by the former.

Salem residents attending the exhibition included Rev. C. A.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Pilaff—The Minimum Meat Dish
When there's a small quantity of meat for the main dish, it may be supplemented with rice and seasonings into one of the favorite Oriental foods—pilaff, or "Pilauf" as it is also called. Lamb, chicken, veal are superior to beef for this purpose. Or liver, kidneys, brains, sweetbreads may be used in this fashion.

A pilaff always has a rice foundation, brown rice being preferable to white rice. Cook one-half cupful of rice and when tender drain and let cold water run through the colander of rice to separate the grains. When fairly dry, place in a saucepan with one cupful of good broth or bouillon, and simmer for about 10 minutes. Meanwhile, brown two medium-sized chopped onions in butter, then mix with rice. Here is the foundation and for seasoning salt, pepper or curry may be added.

To this cooked mixture add diced cooked veal, or chicken or lamb, or liver, or what have you.

An Unusual Delicacy
The Turkish pilaff would include about half a cupful of currants and this is delicious, although the combination of a sweet with a meat and vegetable dish is a taste that the Westerner may have to cultivate before he enjoys it.

Other seasonings may be added if preferred. To those who cherish an onion prejudice, this may be omitted and instead diced celery can be fried lightly in butter until tender or sweet green peppers.

Another pleasant variation is the addition of about one-quarter cupful of blanched almonds, or walnuts or pecans. These should not be chopped up, but carefully cut in halves and cooked slowly with the meat and vegetables for about half an hour, so that the pleasant nut flavor permeates the whole dish.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)

The finale from Beethoven's symphony No. 7 and the overture to Bordin's opera "Prince Igor" divide musical honors in the program which will be presented tonight by Howard Barlow's symphony orchestra over Columbia's network broadcast at 9:30 p. m. This will be the first time the Bordin overture has been performed over the radio.

The remainder of the program selected by Howard Barlow is varied in tone, consisting of a typically romantic Schubert overture, one of Humperdinck's delightful whistles from his children's opera "Hansel and Gretel" and the melodic "Love Song" from Eliebert Nevin's popular suite "A Day in Venice."

Sigmund Spaeth, master of ceremonies, will present "More Synthetic Songs" during the NBC network broadcast at 9:30 this evening. The guest composer on this program is Robert King who wrote "Beautiful Ohio," and "Moonlight on the Colorado" not to mention others. These two songs will be played and a medley by the singing violins.
